The month began with the lawn fair at the Carlyon Arms, on Wednesday even-A peach and cream festival will be held next Menday and Tuesday in St. John's Hall. Then comes the county fire parade, on the 23d inst., to be followed in the evening by a dance, smoker and Following closely on the parade omes the annual fair and horse show of the Westchester County Agricultural Society, at the Fair Grounds, to last a week. In the mean time several interesting games of golf will be played at the Knollwood Club, and the White Plain Football Club will play the first of a series of games of foetball.

The lawn fair held on the grounds of the Carlyon Arms, in Broadway, was largely attended. A gratifying amount was realized for the Sick Babies' Fund, for the benefit of which it was given. The grounds were pretty with light and color. astefully trimmed booths and many Japanese lanterns suspended from the trees gave the grounds a bower-like effect. Miss Margareta Gainsborg was the gypsy fortune-teller, and the other young ladies who had charge of booths were Miss Adele Lequin, Miss Mabel Sniffin, Miss Wilhelmina Gainsborg, Miss Julia Sniffin, Miss Lillian Williamson, Miss Carrie Long, Miss Raquel Gainsborg, Miss Pearl Edgerton and Miss Elena Gainsborg.
